JHALKI

(Glimpse)

(Hindi/2019/104 mins.)

Jhalki (Glimpse) is a 2019 Indian Hindi-language drama film directed by Brahmanand S. Siingh, produced by Brahmanand S. Siingh and Annand Chavan, co-produced by Vinayak Gawande and Jayesh Parekh and co-directed by Tanvi Jain. The film featuring Boman Irani, Tannishtha Chatterjee, Divya Dutta and Sanjay Suri, follows a 9-year-old street girl Jhalki, setting out to find her 7-year-old brother against the backdrop of the child slavery trade. The trailer of the film was released at the Cannes Film Festival in May 2019.

The film has been premiered at various national and international film festivals and won 13 awards so far. It is scheduled to be theatrically released in India on 14 November 2019.

A life-altering disappearance of her 7-year old brother sets Jhalki off on a mission to find him at all costs. Armed with an intimate folk-tale and her own sharp mind, is Jhalki's journey the start of a spiral that will change the lives of thousands for good? What price must she pay to get what she wants? Inspired by true events, with a backdrop of human-trafficking and child-labour, Jhalki becomes an atypical thriller of hope, courage, self-belief and perseverance, seen through the eyes of a 9-year-old girl, who will not stop anywhere short of a triumph.

CAPSULES

(Capsulas)

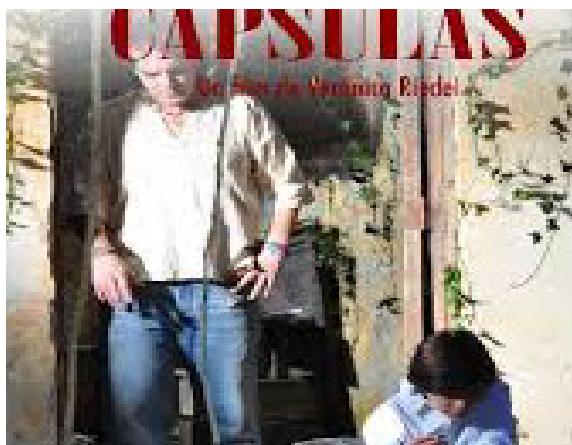

(2011/103 mins./with EST)

Written, Directed by : Veronica Riedel
Cast : Sofía Arévalo, Giacomo Buonafina, Carolina Cuervo
Language : Spanish

FONSI is an apparently privileged 12 year old boy. As we get to know his dysfunctional family, his world begins to crumble in a matter of hours. Due to a series of unexpected events, each character changes drastically, facing a crude reality.

Seemingly more fortunate than many of his mates, schoolboy Fonsi (Sebastian Gereda) likes making paintball videos and listening to rap, but he's surrounded by vipers. To his left is his mom's drug-dealing b.f. Simon (Jose Penalonso), who makes the lad swallow capsules of heroin to smuggle into the U.S., where the family is headed. To his right is a group of bad youths led by Nena (Sofia Arevalo, in a ludicrous evil-bitch-from-hell perf). His long-absent father, Giaco (Giacomo Buonafina), manages to get Fonsi away from the bad guys for some quality time.
